This ground-floor home in a two-apartment house is available to rent on a landscaped plot with mature trees in Remetekertváros. Wide corner glazing in the living room brings both the garden and the views close, while the southeast orientation gives the shared living/dining space a bright character. With trees in view, even an ordinary weekday breakfast feels special.

A partly covered terrace of 34 m² extends in front of the living room. There is room for a dining table and a comfortable seating area, so spending time together outdoors need not be reserved for special occasions. Direct garden access and established planting enrich life beyond the apartment's interior.

Alongside the bright U-shaped kitchen are two bedrooms, a bathroom, separate WC and storage. A mirrored wardrobe and statement wallpaper add individual character, with underfloor heating throughout. The apartment is available for a maximum of four occupants; pets may be considered by agreement.

One parking space on the street and the area's shopping, transport and schools complete the practical picture. Common charges, utilities and garden maintenance are payable in addition to rent. Here, the convenience of an apartment meets the immediate pleasure of a terrace and garden.
