This south-facing family house with panoramic views is offered for sale in a quiet street in Budaliget. Tall trees and an extensive lawn surround the home on its 2200 m² plot. The garden can accommodate children's games, lunch together outdoors and a quiet corner in which to retreat with a book.

Large glazed surfaces in the living and dining rooms bring the garden close. The fireplace becomes an intimate focal point on cooler evenings, while the generous shared space comfortably accommodates a family celebration. Light, the outlook and views into the garden shape the home's atmosphere.

Timber floors bring natural warmth to the three bedrooms and their more private setting. These rooms can serve rest, work or guests as the family's needs dictate. In the bathroom, the bath and twin basins offer convenience both for getting ready in the morning and winding down at night.

Budaliget's residential setting is complemented by nearby Hungarian and international schools and shopping facilities. The home's distinctive appeal lies in the combination of a large garden and a manageable number of rooms: generous outdoor space can be filled with family life on a personal scale. At the end of the day, the living room with its fireplace and the garden among the trees offer two ways to enjoy the same calm.
